

What We Do

Rainbows' programs help children who are grieving the loss of a parent or guardian due to death, divorce, deployment, or trauma. Rainbows' trained facilitators, using age-appropriate curriculum, establish peer support groups in schools, faith-based organizations, or community centers.

Who We Serve

Rainbows' programs are for all children from all economic, racial, ethnic, and religious backgrounds.

How We Do It

Rainbows uses age-appropriate curriculum which has helped over 3 million of our youth over the past 32 years.

Why We Do It

Children who experience the trauma and grief associated with losing a parent or guardian are at an increased risk for: learning, emotional and behavioral issues; physical health problems; aggression; and substance & alcohol abuse.

Rainbows Will Help Your Children

- Develop and strengthen problem-solving skills and appropriate behavior and anger management
- Improve school attendance and academic performance
- Alleviate depression and anxiety
- Reduce emotional pain and suffering
- Improve communication in their families
- Prevent destructive behavior such as involvement with gangs, alcohol and substance abuse

If your child is part of a single-parent family, has experienced the death of a loved family member, friend or sibling, or struggling through a painful experience, this will be an opportunity for him or her to share with a special someone on the outside what is happening on the inside.

* Please be sure and let us know if your child has been in a previous Rainbows Program group by indicating the facilitator's name on our registration form. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Molly Rose at 225-293-2212, or mollyr@st-george.org.
